- Good to hear the complementarity between councils. Interesting to hear more about how they will dovetail, given the messy footprints of our vcs organisations areas of work and interest. Also to hear more about the resource model that is envisaged to enable this work.
- I would have liked more focus on young people as we are not creating an environment that they want to stay in
- The intro to the different program for our vcse colleagues.
- Hearing the range of opportunities and confidence that the approach being taken is 'with' communities not being 'done to' communities
- Better understanding of the background and vision for both councils and some of the programmes
- A useful strategic overview
- Good to see system partners committed to developing community networks
- Good to hear the different perspectives. Especially good to
